

CAPT. NIMTZ WITH LEE LINE.

Sunday morning Capt. Gus Nimtze received a telegram instructing him to come to Memphis to bring the steamer Ferd Herold out Tuesday for Vicksburg. This message means that the Ferd Herold is to take the place of the steamer Sadie Lee in the Vicksburg-Memphis trade, and that Capt. Nimtze will hereafter be with the Lee line.

Capt. Nimtze is one of the best known and most popular steamboat masters on the Mississippi river, having served on the boats between Vicksburg and Greenville for over a quarter of a century, and his numerous friends hope he will have much success in his new steamboat engagement.

MEETING OF HUMANE SOCIETY.

A meeting of the Humane Society was held on Thursday, November the tenth at the city hall. Although this society does not make itself conspicuous or obnoxious, it does a great deal of good and they would be glad to have new members, and also reports of unkind or cruel deeds done to animals in this city. Mr. A. J. Rose is its worthy president, and with the help of the members, it will continue with the good work it is doing.

EDITOR BELL SICK.

Editor D. B. Bell of the Belzoni Journal has been confined to his home for several days with a quite serious illness, and according to reports is threatened with pneumonia. The Times hopes however, that he will soon recover and be able to again take his place at the helm of the bright little weekly paper which is one of the best and most interesting that comes to our exchange table.

ADELAIDE THURSTON.

Adelaide Thurston, who is starring under the direction of Cohan and Harris in Catherine Chisholm Cushing's new comedy, "Miss Ananias," is a great lover of aquatic sports, and is as much at home in the water as in the famous Annette Kellermann.

Miss Thurston has ideas on the art of swimming, by the way, that are both pronounced and original. She believes for instance, that children should be taught to swim in the public schools along with the three R's.

"If they were," says Miss Thurston, "the mortality during the summer season would be decreased materially."

"I was never taught to swim," asserts the actress. "It is a kind of second nature to me and I think I always knew how. Of course I prefer ocean to fresh water swimming, but if I can't have either I go to the best Turkish bath establishment in the city where I am playing and there find renewed health and vigor in a refreshing plunge."

POLITICAL NOTE.

The Bureau of Manufacturers is not supposed to have any interest in politics, and yet it is preparing to issue a monograph on "Steam Rollers in Foreign Countries." Unfortunately, perhaps, it did not get out prior to the recent unpleasantness, culminating on November 8.

ADELAIDE THURSTON IN "CONTRARY MARY"

IT TAKES LOTS OF TRAINING TO PLAY BALL

Boys, you have played ball, and you know that a man cannot get into the National League unless he has had a thorough training. Then is it not just as essential that he get a thorough practical training to enter the great business enterprises of the country successfully? If you were about to lose an eye, would you go to some one to treat it who had never made a specialty of the eye, and hand't a certificate from some reliable college? If you were being tried in court for your life, would you employ a man as your attorney who had never been admitted to the bar and one who had never made a special study of law? Your answer to both the above questions would without hesitancy be NO. Why then, young man, could you think for a moment of entering the business world without first taking a thorough business training in some first-class school, and obtaining a certificate of proficiency? The business man has a right to demand of you the proof that you are capable, the same as you have of the doctor or the lawyer.

We are living in a commercial age and in one of the greatest commercial countries on the globe. Competition is close, and only those who are thoroughly prepared, may hope to succeed in building for themselves a satisfactory business, a business that will produce the profits that will enable them to own pleasant homes and enjoy life as they should.
